BIC DECREASE IN FATALITIES. AT MOUTH OF PROVO CANYON.

Contagious Diseases Also Show a Material Falling Off in Numbers During Last Year.

The annual report of the city health office which is now being prepared by Clerk Horace H. Smith, of the board of health, shows that there were 1,262 cases of contagious diseases in the city during the year 1903, while the previous year there were 1,573 cases reported to the board. Scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, chickenpox and whoopingcough show a marked decrease this year, while typhoid fever, smallpox, varioloid and croup show an increase this year as compared to last year. There were seven times as many cases this afternoon at the fair grounds, and of measles reported last year as this year and over three times as many cases of scarlet fever last year as this. There were 236 cases of smallpox reported during the year as compared to 126 for last year. At present, however, there are only three cases of the disease in the city and they were imported. Typhoid fever was almost as bad as smallpox, there being 352 cases of the former disease reported during the year, and 19 deaths from the dis-Last year there; were 167 cases reported and 28 deaths. In the year 1900 there were 951 cases of contagious diseases in the city; in 1901 there were 1,662; in 1902 there were 1,573 and in 1903 there were 1,262.

The statistics for the past 13 years show that the mortality was often greatest when there were but few contagious diseases. In 1891 there were 370 cases of contagion and there was a total of 165 deaths. In 1896 there were 389 cases reported and 45 deaths; in 1891 there were 1,662 cases and only 96 deaths; in 1902 there were 1,573 cases and 109 deaths and this year there were 1,262 cases and only 67 deaths.

University Club High Jinks Attendant Upon Ushering in of the New Year.

Over 100 members of the University club and their friernds held "High Jinks" last night, at the new clubhouse. Owing to the unfinished condition of the main floor. the ceremonies attendant on the festal occasion were held in the basement, where the billiard tables, grill ad card rooms, and the music room are located. The and the music room are located. The evening was given up to carde, music, billiards and light refreshments; the principal feature being the singing of college songs, and the old year was sung to an eternal sleep, and the new year welcomed in with some very good choral work, George Lawrence, Grant Hampton, Jay H. Harris, Kenneth Kerr and L. H. Farnsworth also entertained their college associates with dramatic stunts that were ciates with dramatic stunts that were very pleasing. The entire affair was en-joyable and well managed, and the club starts off with this initial function as a successful curtain raiser for coming so-cial entertainments. The interior of the building will be completed shortly, and be one of the most cosy, comfortable and home-like clubhouses in the west.

STRANGE METAMORPHOSIS.

Ex · Salt Lake Dog Catcher Now a Preacher in Sacramento.

Ex-Sergeant J. Gordon McPherson of the Twenty-fourth infantry, and for a time dog catcher in ordinary to the Salt Lake City corporation under Mayor Thompson, has been distinguishing himclf in Sacramento, where he has loomed self in Sacramento, where he has loomed up as preacher extraordinary. McPherson came to Salt Lake with the Twenty-fourth infantry, and afterwards served with his regiment in Cuba. His Cuban experience so elated him that he had a lieutenant's uniform made and sported the same on any and every possible occasion. The "veteran" so impresse the Mayor Thompson with his importance that his hence appointed him dog harvester, but the new functionary's service was so distinguished by the unaccountable disappearance of valuable licensed dogs, that "Lieut." McPherson was relieved from his command and mustered out of the city's service.

From this city Mae meandered to Seattle, where a new freak struck him, and he discarded the licutenant's uniform for the regulation garb of a colored preacher, and was "called to the ministry." After the reverend ex-sergeant and canne hypnotizer had made a fair start on his new road, he migrated to Sacramento, where his persuasive powers brought many to the baptismal font in the Shiloh Baptist church. Among these converts was the "better seven eighths" of a pillar of the church named Deacon Asbury, and when in face of his protests she insisted in carrying out her part of the program, the good deacon whipped a razor out of his boot and threatened to test the keenness of its edge on her jugular. The faithful wife promptly had her good mar run in by the police, and the Shiloh Baptist church was thrown into convulsions. The board of trustees yoted to expel the razor artist, who got back with a riot act, and "laid it down as a fundamental principle" that when a church arrives at such a stage where it rannot forgive an erring brother it had better put up its shutters and permanently foin the Early Closing association. GOOD CHANCE FOR BRIGHT YOUNG MEN

Typhoid, Smallpox and Croup Free School of Electrical Engineering to be Established by Telluride Company.

Establishment of Such an Institution Has Been Hobby of General Manager Nunn for Years.

Some years ago, when the Telluride Power Transmission company first invaded Utah, there came to Provo, the scene of its first local operations, a liberal hearted general manager, L. L. Nunn. About his first move, was to select from among the host of bright young men living in that city a number who were anxious to receive a practical education. He placed them on books of electrical engineering while the power plant in Provo canyon was being built, and at its completion he gave all of them positions in the plant that would enable them to get the practical experience so essential to such an education. The life was not a sinecure—this standing at a water-gauge for eight or ten hours daily and watching constantly to see that the generator's water-supply did not vary—nor was it an extremely hard exist. nor was it an extremely hard exist-ence, except to the boys whose hands had been gloved all their lives. Each of the candidates who remained at his post for one year was rewarded with something better, and eventually, after having shown himself capable, he was placed in a position to complete his education. Several of them were sent to college, at the individual expense of L. L. Nunn, whose aim it, was to give the Utah boys as many of the important positions in the company as possible. In this aim, he succeeded admirably. It is said that practically all of the Telluride company's em-ployes in this state are from Provo, Logan, Salt Lake and Bingham, except the Utah manager, who came originally from Colorado, but who has since married a Utah girl and settled

So it is not surprising to learn that the company is now to branch out in ist system of free education by establishing a school at the mouth of Provo canyon, in connection with the power plant, where students of electrical enplant, where students of electrical en-gineering will be taught in practical branches, "from the point where the colleges dror them," as Mr. Nunn ex-plains it. The school will cost about $30,000, and will accommodate from 30 to 40 students, including sleeping quarters. The company bears all the expense.

To help students in this manner is but a continuation of Manager Nunn's philanthropic "hobbyism." He is a man of considerable wealth. Outside of his lucrative managerial position, he is president of the Telluride National bank and has other wide interests. Since he became a man of affluence he has endeavored in every way to put his money where it would do the most good. It is no exaggeration to say that his life's hobby has been to find boys of intelligence, in all conditions of life, and put them through college. He has "picked up" boot-blacks, bell-boys, porters, newsboys, store elerks and school boys almost without number and put them through the various courses of education, paying all their expenses. It has been their privilege to select their own colleges and the professoins for which they were best suited. There are lawyers, musicians and electrical engineers in this city today and he still has a score or more at who owe their training to Mr. Nunn, who will modestly deny any credit, if asked about it. One or two of his asked about it. One or two of his "boys" are on the bench, in other states, Yale, Harvard, and Princeton. Mr. Nunn's philantrophy is not confined to the male sex entirely. In not a few instances he has placed girls who were without means in the way of educa-

The engineering school project is more ambitious than would appear upon the surface. While now it is intended only to apply a practical finish to the student's learning, eventually it will be enlarged to the point where the entire course will be taught. Mr. Nunn be-lieves that a better class of labor will result from schools established by the large corporations and that it is the duty of every great concern to treat its employes and prospective employes with fairness. The unique educational with fairness. institution will not be completed before summer.

Congratulations.

Mr. John H. Cullom, Editor of the Gar-land, Texas. News, has written a letter of congratulations to the manufact-urers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: "Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was sub-ject to croup speljs and he would be very uneasy about him. We began very uneasy about him. ising Chamberlain's Cough Remedy 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup, we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an over-dose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sole by all Druggists.

COUNTY CLERK'S REPORT.

Total Receipts From All Sources Amounted to Over $25,000.

The annual report of County Clerk James for the year 1903 shows the total eccipts of his office, from all sources, to be $25,674.82. This is a slight increase over 1902 notwithstanding the fact that the incorporation of Murray City during the year has cut off quite a large revenue from the county in the way of fees for licenses. During the year 47 persons were examined as to their sanity by the county clerk and the county physicians. Of that number 30 were committed to the state mental hospital, and 17 were discharged.
